

A simple 3-way mixer. It lacks coupling capacitors so it can be used for low-frequency signals intended for CV.

This is intended as a modification for an existing implementation of the mixer, removing (bypassing) the coupling capacitors and using the other half of the TL072 to un-invert (re-invert) the output signal.

